About Me

Professional Game Developer with over 14 years of industry experience, including a specialized focus on Unity for more than a decade. My expertise spans software engineering and technical art, with a strong command of C++, C#, and Python.

Throughout my career, I have developed a deep specialization in console porting and performance optimization, ensuring high-quality releases across multiple platforms. Additionally, I bring extensive experience in shader development, visual effects, and rendering pipelines to bridge the gap between code and art.
